

CURRICULUM VITAE

Giuseppe Rosace

giuseppe.rosace@unibg.it

Born in Italy, Giuseppe Rosace is 49 years old. He graduated in Chemistry from the University of Messina (Italy) in 1991. He received his PhD in Chemistry from Messina University in 1995. Currently he is Assistant Professor at the Department of Engineering and Applied Science of Bergamo University (Italy) where he has been lecturer of "Textile Finishing" since 2001.

His research activities are mainly focused on colloidal chemistry and on synthesis and characterization of organic-inorganic hybrid finishing for functionalization of polymer surfaces. He is the author or coauthor of more than 100 papers on international scientific journals and conference proceedings

Currently the University of Bergamo, with its constant commitment to the renovation and expansion of training and facilities, consists of 6 schools (Economics, Law, Engineering, Languages and Literature, Education, Humanities) 17 Bachelor programs, 17 postgraduate courses and a single cycle degree course in Law. The University of Bergamo is also the administrative headquarters of 15 PhD programs. 78 Professors, 100 Associate Professors and 157 Assistant Professors, for a total of 335 faculty tenure staff work at the University of Bergamo, in addition to 228 employees among technical and administrative staff. The students have exceeded 15,000 units, including approximately 3,000 in the School of Engineering (with Bachelor and Master degrees in Civil, Computer, Management and Mechanical Engineering).

Giuseppe Rosace is member of the board of AICTC, (Italian Association of Textile Chemist and Colourist) for which he has been Scientific Director since 2012.

At international level, he is Secretary of IFATCC, the International Federation of Associations of Textile Chemists and Colourists.

